Since the pandemic Europe and the world has been digitalized faster than ever before. Digital is what has kept our society going. It has also widened the gap between those who have the means to shift to digital and enjoy its benefits and those who do not.

In 2021 the EU has clearly taken stand for pursuing a human-centric, sustainable vision for digital society throughout the digital decade to empower citizens and businesses.

In this context the European Centre for Women and Technology is increasing its portfolio of projects focused on Digital Humanism and we are delighted to be a key partner in the Dignipedia Global Initiative financed by the Active Citizens Fund of the EEA and Norway Grants during 30th of June 2021 and 29th of December 2023 focusing on systematizing, deepening, and defending Human Rights in the Context of Globalization.

Between the 17-20th May 2022 representatives of the project promotor IECCPMA | Instituto Europeu de Ciências da Cultura Padre Manuel Antunes (European Institute of Cultural Sciences Father Manuel Antunes) led by Professor José Eduardo Franco, and key researchers Paula Carreira and Florentino Bernardes Franco and the project manager Susana Alves-Jesus visited Oslo and met with leading representatives of the Norwegian and European human rights ecosystem and finetuned their action plan for the next one and a half years.

Dignipedia Global and ECWT will until the end of December 2023:

- 1) Prepare two human rights dictionaries:
  - a global dictionary, intended for specialists, but also for the general public and
  - a children's dictionary of human rights, with a pedagogical focus, for children and young people of school age;
- 2) Launch an online platform, free and open access, where the two dictionaries will be available, as well as other resources for deepening the subject of human rights:
- 3) Train and run awareness-raising actions for human rights, together with schools, civil society, and academia, as well as writing and artistic content creation workshops for the two dictionaries and the online platform.

ECWT's primary focus is on the European dissemination on all levels and in different fora.
